In a recent survey, 87% of Podiatrists and Footcare Professionals agreed that It is very important for the bottom of the foot to make full contact with a replacement insole or orthotic to ensure good fit, control and comfort. Only Spenco® TOTALSUPPORT™ Insoles have the Full-Contact Comfort™ Footbed—developed and refined over many years, it's the perfect shape that instantly aligns feet and helps reduce over-pronation—a common problem that causes foot, leg and back pain.

Spenco for Her®

Insoles designed for men don't address the effect of a woman's increased quadriceps angle (Q angle) on her natural stride. When a woman runs, foot impact causes supination (outward rolling) followed by over-pronation (the shifting of weight to the inside of the foot). Over time, these conflicting forces can lead to potentially serious repetitive strain injuries to the foot, ankle and knee. Spenco for Her® Q Factor® Technology helps guide a woman's natural stride into a centralized and balanced path.

Full-Contact Comfort™ Footbed

A Great Shoe Starts with a Great Last.

We started with the proven contours of our TOTALSUPPORT™ Sandal. We added extra volume to the toe box for a generous, comfortable fit. The heel was carved into a slender form to cradle the foot and gently hold the ankle. When finished, the last didn't look like any we'd seen before. A semi-curved, custom casual shape with a biomechanically accurate footbed.

It's a mouthful, and it makes the most comfortable shoes you'll ever wear.

The Blister Pads are beyond amazing. I have worn them in my sweatiest races, and they do not fail to stay adhered. I have had to apply them at mile 20, when manual dexterity is less than great, and they are simple to open, easy to apply. It doesn't matter how well you train or how callused your feet are...A blister can bring you down. Spenco® Products got me across the finish line.
